Space and Naval Warfare Systems Command Awards Contract

SAN DIEGO — Lockheed Martin Services, Inc., Cherry Hill, N.J., is being awarded a $4,534,155 cost plus award fee contract for Surveillance Towed Array Sensor System (SURTASS) operation, maintenance and technician services in support of the SURTASS/Low Frequency Active Program. The services include technician crew members to operate and maintain SURTASS equipment aboard T-AGOS, CORY CHOUEST and J-AOS class ships, including Low Frequency Active and Passive systems; Shipboard Acoustic Analysts to provide acoustic analysis aboard T-AGOS and CORY CHOUEST class ships, Field Support Team (FST) members to provide SURTASS engineering and logistic support and FST members to maintain shore SURTASS sites. This contract includes anticipated base and out year options which, if exercised, would bring the cumulative value of this contract to $23,774,623. This contract combines purchases for the U.S. Navy (92.4 percent) and the government of Japan (7.6 percent) under the Foreign Military Sales Program. Work will be performed in Norfolk, Va. (59 percent), Pearl City, Hawaii (40 percent) and Whidbey Island, Wash.. (1 percent) and is expected to be completed by December 2006. If all options are exercised, work will continue until November 2010. Contract funds in the amount of $4,188,710 will expire at the end of the current fiscal year. This contract was competitively procured with unlimited proposals solicited and two offers received via the Commerce Business Daily's Federal Business Opportunities website, and the SPAWAR e-Commerce Central website. The Space and Naval Warfare Systems Command, San Diego, Calif., is the contracting activity (N00039-06-C-0017).
